addition to being helpful for foreign travel, learning another language is one of the best ways you can stimulate your brain. Hearing and processing new sounds and configurations helps to form new connections in your brain.

Whether you have an overseas vacation planned this summer, or maybe just a weekend away, consider bringing a language learning program along with you. For more on the impact of language on the brain, read here.

In the News

Did you know that drinking 3-5 cups of coffee a day may reduce the risk of dementia and Alzheimer's? Recent research from the Journal of Alzheimer's Disease studied dementia and Alzheimer's among people in Scandinavia who consumed low, moderate and high quantities of coffee. Results suggest that drinking coffee in midlife may actually benefit the brain.

Struggling with ideas for your dad? Below are our top 5 recommendations.

1. Wobble Chess Set: Beautiful design coupled with critical thinking. A truly artful chess set.
2. Quarto: A two-player game of sequencing and strategy.
3. History of the World: Packed with little-known stories and outrageous (but accurate) facts, your dad will pick up tidbits from 60,000 years of human civilization.
4. Tangoes Deluxe: Combines artistic and mathematical elements for visual stimulation and a creative challenge. Can be played solo or with two players.
5. Brain Fitness Kit: Over 100 logical and lateral thinking puzzles that can be played as a solo game or with a group.

Dakim BrainFitness is offering a special offer this month - win a FREE program (valued at $2499) for submitting a 200 word story about what makes your dad special. Dakim BrainFitness helps seniors use cognitive exercise to prevent or slow the development of dementia. Send your story to info@marblesthebrainstore.com by June 19th. Read more about Dakim here.

As always, please feel free to contact us with any questions, comments, suggestions or feedback.

Warm regards,
The Marbles Team
